Speech on teachers training and students counseling - Continue

Teachers are the backbone to the success of the students. Teachers enlighten the life of students by their knowledge which needs to be updated and upskilled with time. Keeping this in view our teachers have attended various trainings and workshops with regular intervals.

These training programmes focused on key academic and pedagogical areas such as:

- Effective lesson planning and classroom management
- Competency-based and formative assessment practices
- Experiential and theme-based learning
- Interdisciplinary teaching approaches
- Foundation literacy and numeracy
- Cyber security and digital safety
- Use of AI and technology in teaching and learning

Renowned academic partners such as Oxford University Press (OUP), GIL, Ashoka Publications, and other expert resource persons conducted these sessions, ensuring that our teachers remain updated with modern teaching methodologies and curriculum expectations.

Special emphasis was given to the integration of technology in classrooms, enabling teachers to make learning more engaging, inclusive, and relevant for today's learners.

Our teachers also actively represented the school at external academic platforms. Our pre-primary and primary teachers joined a workshop at Renukoot, U.P on 'Significance of early childhood education as per NEP and NCF'. Mr. Gagana Bihari Dash has joined a workshop on 'Effective ways of teaching mathematics' at Brahmapur organized by Bharati Bhawan. Mrs. Sunita Das joined the – 'Anubhav' training session at Manikgarh, Maharashtra and also I had the honor of representing Jayshree Chemicals School at the Social Science Workshop – VISTAAR, held at ABHSS, Nagda, Madhya Pradesh, where best practices at the national level were shared and later incorporated into classroom teaching

In addition to teacher development, career counseling and orientation programmes were conducted for our Class IX and X students in collaboration with Extramarks and other reputed career guidance agencies, helping them make informed academic and career choices.

All these training initiatives directly contribute to the quality teaching, student achievements, and vibrant school activities that you have witnessed and heard about.
